

When used with one of ContactCollegeCoaches.com's databases, the following survey will help you --- or your coach --- significantly narrow the number of college programs you're interested in.

You can fill out this document on the computer, print it out and hand it to your coach, or create your own on a piece of paper.

Name
------	--

Year
------	--

Position(s)
-------------	--

GPA
-----	--

ACT score
-----------	--

SAT score (reading, then math)
--------------------------------	--

Do you have a preferred location, or locations, where you want to attend school? List the region/regions or state/states.
---	--

Does the population of the city in which a college is located matter to you? If it does, do you prefer small, medium, large or very large cities? Selecting multiple options is OK.
---	--

Is a school's religious affiliation important to you? If it is, do you have a preferred religious affiliation?
--	--

Is the size of a school's student body important to you? If it is, what size, or sizes, do you prefer? Small, medium, large or very large? Selecting multiple options is OK.
--	--

Do you know what major/majors you want to study in college? If so, which major/majors?
--	--

Which of the following are the most important factors for you in making your college decision?  Academic prestige, cost, location, a college town's size, religious affiliation, size of the student body.  Rank the factors in order of importance, with first being the most important. Do not rank unimportant factors.
--	--